HERBERT—EYGABROAD

SON OF MRS. P. D. HERBERT OF 435 CENTRAL AVE. WEDS LOS ANGELES GIRL

David Herbert of Thermal, California, a son of Mrs. Phil D. Herbert, of 435 South Central avenue, this city, was married Saturday evening, October 4, 1919, to Miss Mildred Eygabroad, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. L. O. Hardout, on Mesa Drive, Hyde Park, a suburb of Los Angeles. About fifty relatives and close friends of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony which was performed at a beautiful floral altar of ferns and white chrysanthemums by Rev. R. P. Howell of Long Beach. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, A. D. Beach, of Los Angeles. She was attired in white satin and Georgette, wore a conventional wedding veil and carried bride roses. Her sister, Mrs. Charles Townsend, of Minneapolis, was matron of honor, and Miss Reon Herbert of this city, who was gowned in blue Georgette and who carried pink roses, was maid of honor. Letton Herbert was best man and little Reon Cline, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl. The wedding march was played by Miss Mattie Rowley, of Los Angeles. After Mr. and Mrs. Herbert had received the congratulations of their assembled friends and a wedding supper had been enjoyed, they left for a honeymoon trip. They will make their home in Thermal. The bride was guest of honor at several functions last week, Miss Reon Herbert giving a party in her honor Thursday, and Mrs. L. A. Cline a kitchen shower on Saturday.

TO MAKE OIL SURVEY

L. L. Boas, stratigraphic geologist, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Hull at 1648 Kenneth Road, will leave Friday night for the Olympic Peninsula, on the coast of the State of Washington, where the Standard Oil and several other companies are investigating the possibilities of oil development. Mr. Boas is an oil and gas expert and will make a survey with that in view. He says the country looks to be highly oil bearing, but is very rough and difficult to travel over. The rainfall is tremendous averaging 110 inches annually. The record at Clearwater P. O. in 1915 showed a precipitation of fifteen inches in the month of November. He expects to be gone six weeks to two months.

HOME FROM THE EAST

MR. AND MRS. J. C. McQUISTON RETURN FROM PURCHASING AGENTS' CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McQuiston have just returned from an extended tour of the east where they attended the Purchasing Agents' Convention in Philadelphia. Mr. McQuiston was elected vice-president of the national association in which he is a director and he is also president of the Los Angeles Association of Purchasing Agents. This election to a national office he considers is a great honor to himself and California. Nearly one thousand delegates were in attendance and nearly five hundred ladies, the wives of delegates, some of them coming from points as far distant as Canada. The ladies were given royal entertainment visiting Liberty Hall where they inspected the historic liberty bell. They were then taken for an auto ride through Philadelphia's wonderful parks and suburbs. In the evening they were guests at a dinner at the Ritz Carlton and at a theatre party. Later in the week they were taken through the big plant of the Curtis Publishing Company and were given a boat ride on the Delaware River, a pleasure somewhat marred by rain. The big social feature of the convention was the banquet in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel when the committee in charge did themselves proud in their embellishment of the beautiful room with the national colors and with ferns and flowers. Covers were laid for eighteen hundred and the Hon. Julius Kahn of California was present from Washington, D. C., as an after-dinner speaker on the subject of the peace treaty and what he had seen in France, England and Germany on the trip from which he has just returned. After visiting New York, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Chicago and Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. McQuiston say they are glad to return to their beloved California and especially glad to be in "dear Glendale, the city beautiful."

WEATHER FORECAST: Partly cloudy and unsettled. Probable showers tonight and Friday.

BACK FROM SEVEN SEAS

GLENDALE BOYS IN U. S. NAVY RETURN ON FURLOUGH OR FOR GOOD

The boys who have been sailing the seven seas are beginning to come home, some of them to stay. Beryl Platt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur M. Platt, of 204 South Orange street, arrived Wednesday from Honolulu. He has a thirty-day furlough and at the end of it will return to the Hawaiian submarine station. He enlisted before the war for four years and he has nine more months to serve. He has made good and is now rated as a first-class electrician although only twenty years old. He is well and though he likes the life does not plan to re-enlist when his term ends. It has been a liberal education to him, however, as he has become a much-traveled person. He has been in most of the Oriental ports in China, Japan and the Philippines, has been in South America, and has made several trips to France. In the course of his journeyings he has occasionally seen one or more of the Glendale boys who enlisted in the Navy and he is able to locate most of them as follows:

Wilfred Long, who attended Glendale High, has been in the Navy about eighteen months of which twelve were spent in Manila Bay, but he has also been in Chinese waters. Some time ago he wrote Glendale friends he was on the way home. Beryl says he is now at Mare Island, that he will probably be discharged Friday and come to Glendale. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, conduct the resort, Fern Lodge, in the hills above Sierra Madre.

Russell Payne, who enlisted about the same time Beryl did, is on the Pocahontas and is on the way to Holland with a boatload of German prisoners who were interned in the United States during the war.

Charles Fromm is on the Brooklyn at Vladivostok.

APPRECIATED IN OLD HOME TOWN

The following item which was published in the Huntsville (Mo.) September 26th, will be of interest to the friends of Douglas Balthis and his bride in this city:

"B. Douglas Balthis of Glendale, California, and Miss Esther Louise Sinclair of this city, were married Friday, September 19th, and old friends of the Balthis family in this city are receiving announcements of the event.

"The groom will be recalled here as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Balthis and grandson of the late Captain and Mrs. W. H. Balthis of Huntsville. His grandfather was the lamented and greatly admired editor of the Huntsville Herald and his father was assistant editor of this paper for several years. Douglas was quite a young boy when the family went west. Reports come that he is a splendid young man. He was a volunteer and served his country in France almost from the beginning of the World War. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Louis Sinclair and is doubtless a charming young woman well worthy the young husband and her entry into the splendid Balthis family, one which Randolph county recalls as her own with pride."

DEATH OF TOBIAS MEYERS

Tuesday evening, October 7, 1919, at seven o'clock, Tobias Meyers, brother of Mrs. J. B. Doner, passed away at the Doner home at 137 N. Orange street, where he had been tenderly cared for the past two months. The illness which caused his death was the result of a fall he sustained about a year ago while connected with the Glendale Music Company in this city. When overtaken by his final illness two months ago he was conducting a music store in Long Beach. He was born fifty-eight years ago in Somerset county, Pennsylvania, and had been a resident of California for about fifteen years. Funeral services will be held at 4254 Monita avenue, Los Angeles, Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with interment at Inglewood. Deceased is survived by his daughter and only child, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, of Los Angeles, and by five sisters and one brother, viz., Mrs. J. B. Doner, Miss Lydia Meyers, Mrs. B. B. Foster, Mrs. Alden Mays, Mrs. Mary McNair and William Meyers.

The birthday of Mrs. E. E. Smith of 1022 North Louise street was celebrated Wednesday evening with an informal dinner party at the Smith home.

PRESIDENT HAS GOOD NIGHT

HE HIMSELF NOTICED IMPROVEMENT IN HIS HEALTH WHEN HE AWOKE THIS MORNING

RECORD OF STRIKES IN U. S.

LONGSHOREMEN TIE UP PORT OF NEW YORK—TROOPS MAY BE CALLED TO OAKLAND—CASUALTIES REPORTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The entire water front of the port of New York is tied up today by the unauthorized strike of longshoremen, according to officials of the U. S. Shipping Board. It is estimated that fifty thousand men are out on strike and it is intimated that an embargo on trans-Atlantic freight may be necessary if the strike continues.

OAKLAND, Oct. 9.—Crowds of strike sympathizers are openly defying the police and riots are becoming frequent. A call for troops to establish order is predicted.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 9.—Two strikers were shot, and several others were injured when the street police charged a mob which had attacked a negro workman at the plant of the American Steel Company.

STRIKE CENORSHIP AT GARY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

GARY, Ind., Oct. 9.—Censorship of military activities in the Calumet Steel strike ranks, which are under martial law, has been established by order of Major General Leonard Wood to prevent radical agitators in other parts of the counttry from learning of the move by the government to curb their activities.

FATALLY BURNED IN BACKYARD FIRE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9.—Mrs. Laura Granas was burned, probably fatally, when her clothing caught fire from a pile of newspapers she was burning in her back yard. Her son was burned about the face and hands in trying to extinguish the flames.

READING CIRCLE IDEA

CAMPAIGN BEGINNING TO ESTABLISH ORGANIZATIONS IN ALL GOOD-SIZED TOWNS

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle of this city held its 141st meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Toll, on Kenneth Road, Wednesday, assembling at ten o'clock and enjoying a community picnic lunch at noon. The new book "For Girls and the Mothers of Girls" was begun, and Mrs. Sonntag gave an excellent review of the book "Self-Reliance," by Dorothy Canfield Fisher. Next week's session will be "Former Members' Meeting" and then will be inaugurated the campaign to advertise the reading circle idea throughout the United States. Mrs. Minette Sherman of Vine street has general charge of this advertising campaign and plans to make it cover the district, state and nation. Under her are able lieutenants. Mrs. Everson is chairman of the Home Division; Mrs. Kurtz, District Chairman; Mrs. J. E. Wright, State Chairman; Mrs. Homer Lockwood, National Chairman. They hope to inform every mother in the United States about the work the Glendale Circle is doing and will endeavor to organize Circles in every good-sized community. This propaganda will all be done by correspondence. The Home Division plans to very soon send an invitation to each mother in Glendale to attend the Circle.

HONORING MR. AND MRS. W. ESTERLY

Mr. and Mrs. Will Bowman of 314 Mira Loma avenue entertained with an informal dinner party Sunday in honor of William Esterly and his bride. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. John Esterly, Helen and Emma Esterly, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Esterly, Thomas McMullin, Mary Louise Hand, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, Fred and Alfred Bowman, Miss Johnson, and the guests of honor. Following the dinner an afternoon of vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed. William Esterly, who came home from the French front suffering from serious war injuries, is better, but by no means recovered. A recent X-ray showed two pieces of shrapnel in his lungs and one lodged near the spinal cord. Surgeons, it is reported, are considering the removal of one of the pieces of shrapnel from the lung in which it is so great an irritant, but fear the consequences of an attempt to operate for the removal of the one so near the spinal cord. This young man who before the war was of almost perfect physique made sacrifices for his country which it can never repay. Miss Emma Esterly, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at Thornycroft, is recuperating, with a prospect of soon regaining her normal health.

FRESH FROM MISSOURI

F. M. Denney and family, whose home is in Rosendale, Missouri, are spending the winter in Glendale and have taken apartments at 126 North Everett street. Mr. Denney is a nephew of J. L. Denney, 119 South Verdugo Road, who is an old-time resident of Glendale.

Mr. Denney is only the forerunner of other parties from his neighborhood, who are headed for California by auto. Mr. Denney was deterred from joining the party, fearing that the trip would be too hard on his youngest child. There are two other children of school age in the family.

Y. M. C. A. ORGANIZE

At a meeting of the Glendale executive and campaign committee of the County Y. M. C. A., held yesterday evening, Chairman David Black reported the following acceptances for team captains for the financial campaign October 12-14: C. W. Ingledue, J. W. Stauffacher, Harry L. Howe, T. A. Wright, Geo. W. Tyrrell, David Black.

Reports from the members of the executive committee showed an unusual degree of interest and co-operation on the part of Glendale citizens, especially when several have already backed their words with checks or subscriptions even before the campaign opens.

Efforts are being made to locate a suitable office for the Y. M. C. A. secretary, who will reside here and who will organize and direct the activities in the Lower San Fernando Valley District, as a part of the entire County Organization.

Chairman David Black states that the citizens of Glendale already interviewed, are ready to back up the proposition and they favor this non-equipment type of work which utilizes the equipment already possessed by various civic organizations.

TENT MEETING

By 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening the tent on Wilson avenue where evangelistic meetings are being held under the auspices of young people's societies of the Glendale Churches, was well filled. Musical numbers by the choir of fifty voices led by C. B. Clark, song director, and the orchestra of twenty pieces, led by Miss Dorothy Lee, opened the service and by the time the preacher, Harry W. Vom Bruch, was ready to speak at 8 o'clock everyone was well prepared for his splendid message. He is a man of God who is giving out the best God has given him in the best way he knows how.

He took for his theme "The Old-Fashioned Love Story," declaring that the Bible is the best and most up-to-date piece of literature ever printed. "People," he said, "are keeping our librarians occupied keeping enough love stories on the shelves to supply their demands, but one of the best love stories ever written is in the Bible in the Book of Ruth, which is seldom called for at the libraries." He analyzed his theme by directing attention to the four steps taken by Ruth, first the step of decision when she said: "Thy people shall be my people, thy God my God." The line between appearance and reality was closely drawn by the speaker when he said: "We can be church members and not be

CHAPTER L. OF P. E. O.

Chapter L, P. E. O., held their regular all-day meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Susie Dow on East Lexington Drive. A lovely luncheon, somewhat in contrast to those which out of patriotic motives were served during war times, was served by Mrs. Dow and assisting hostesses, Mrs. Charlotte Campbell, Mrs. Charlotte Goss and Miss Dorothy Lee. Mrs. Bartlett, president of Chapter L, has recently been appointed chairman for Glendale of the French and Serbian Children's Relief Fund and on presenting the great need to the Chapter, it was voted that a stated sum should be set aside each month for this relief. Chapter L will also cooperate with the local relief work when the plans of the central organization are complete. The program of the afternoon was a brief outline of the year's work, which is on the subject 1819-1919, "A Hundred Years in America," read by Mrs. Lyda Border. One of the pleasant events of the day was the presence of Mrs. E. D. Goode, a member of the Chapter who resides in El Centro, who has been spending the summer in Glendale. The Chapter will entertain their husbands at the next meeting, which will be held in the evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Bartlett. These husbands are known as "B. I. L.'s" and as there are some new ones to initiate they are the occasion of much fun and frolic.

QUIET WEDDING

BLANCHE MONIOT AND WM. H. DIXON UNITED IN LOS ANGELES WEDNESDAY MORNING

The marriage of Miss Blanche Moniot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moniot of 416 Fernando Court to William Hugh Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Dixon, of Los Feliz Road, was quietly celebrated in Los Angeles Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, the only witnesses being the mother of the bride and her sister, Miss Emma Moniot. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was enjoyed by the bridal party, after which Mr. and Mrs. Dixon left for a week's honeymoon in San Diego. On their return they will be at home to their friends for a time at 127 East Palmer avenue, where they will be able to enjoy the many pretty and useful things they have received as wedding gifts. The bride has been a resident of this city for thirteen years. The groom entered the employ of the Los Angeles Box Factory on Cypress avenue six years ago. About two years ago he enlisted in the Marines from which service he recently received his discharge, returning then to the employment he had relinquished. Both young people are widely known and have many friends and well wishers here.

William A. Burns and family have removed from the house built by them eight years ago on the Piedmont Park tract to their new home at 132 South Louise street.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1919

EDUCATIONAL NEEDS OF HAWAII

When one remembers that it was only just one hundred years ago that the little band of New England missionaries went to what were called the Sandwich Islands, and only a scant generation ago that the native monarchical government there was superseded, it is hardly surprising that the superintendent of public instruction finds room for improvement in the Hawaiian educational system. Statements by this territorial official, Prof. Vaughan MacCaughey, recently published in the newspaper, indicate that he sees the Hawaiian educational problem in a distinctly practical which is an idealistic way. One of the most important features of this problem is evidently that of adaptation. The superintendent puts the matter plainly, as well as briefly, when he says that any school system which has the same curriculum, methods and administration for city and for country serves neither city nor country effectively. Hawaii, he reminds one, is preeminently a rural country, with basic industries of the agricultural order. Her country schools, he sensibly declares, must be developed to serve the country, and not to drive young people into the city. This, he observes, accurately enough, has been found true on the mainland. Rural schools have, to a large extent, been merely minature city schools. The mass of Hawaii's population, as he sees the island conditions, must be trained to live successfully and happily in the country, to earn their living by agriculture, and to develop a self-respecting citizenship.

The head of the educational department of the government appreciates the fact that such a reform involves a definite readjustment of the rural schools, and no doubt he is right in the assertion that the most important steps to be taken are to obtain teachers whose homes and interests are rural, who understand rural life, and who can teach children in the terms of rural life; to give to the rural curriculum a large agricultural content; and to make the rural school a real community center. The rural schools, with trained, high-grade, well-paid, permanent teachers, Professor MacCaughey says, have before them a great field for service, a field thus far scarcely touched. Finally he declares that there should be general education in Hawaii, education to make good workmen, "toward the job, not away from it," to use his own expression.

It is difficult to see how the residents can dispute either the good sense or the economic importance of Professor MacCaughey's words, and since the Hawaiian people have shown themselves to be generous and enthusiastic supporters of education, his ideas will no doubt find expression in tangible form.

The tuna season along this coast closed last week with a larger catch than ever before, so we may look for tuna prices to go up shortly.

The papers announce a reduction in the retail prices of eggs, butter, beef and several other things. Now to persuade our grocer that the news is true.

A poultryman urges the readers of the Lankershim Laconic to not go away from home for 1920 chicks. Not many people would want that many chicks, however.

The new $150,000 schoolhouse at Covina has a full acre of floor space, and the patrons hope to raise a more valuable crop on that acre than on all the other ranch acres in the district.

An editor at Brawley has just sued several citizens of that town for $100,000 because they tarred and feathered him when he wouldn't come across in some of the war drives last year. He either has a high opinion of the bank accounts of his persecutors, or else he figured in the time it took him to pick out the feathers.

Jim Jeffries hauled a prize calf from his ranch at Burbank to the Los Angeles stock show by aeroplane the other day, just because he was afraid he might otherwise be too late to enter it, he said. But by a strange coincidence a couple of newspaper photographers happened to be handy, and caught bashful Jim in numerous reluctant poses.

A Corona writer in the Independent objects because people who break bottles on the streets and sidewalks never pick up the pieces of broken glass. The Corona writer has a heap to learn yet about human nature. The people who drop bottles and break them are always the kind that have to have somebody else pick up the pieces. If they were not that kind, they wouldn't drop the bottles.

The Norwalk Call tells of land around there selling for $750 to $1,000 per acre, which the old-timers think isn't worth near that much. Without disparaging the opinions of the old settlers there, we have noticed that it is often the new comers who don't know any better, who wade in and pay higher prices for land and make it worth more than it ever was before, and build up a community while the old-timers are sitting around saying it can't be done and never was wuth it nohow.

LA CANADA

The P.-T. A. of La Canada is endeavoring to arrange a treat for the children of the public school by securing Dr. George Wharton James for a talk on "What Horses and Dogs Did to Help Win the War." It is a theme which is bound to interest the kiddies. No date has been set for the talk which will be free to all comers.

Personals

A pig weighing 900 pounds was exhibited by a Santa Barbara lady at the Ventura county fair last week. And it wasn't her husband either.

Mrs. M. A. Drake, of 353 West Broadway, has just returned from a two weeks' visit with her friend, Miss L. B. Hugus, in Pasadena.

Mrs. T. F. Higgins, Jr., is here from San Francisco as the guest of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Higgins, of Adams and Wilson avenue.

Former Mayor Chas. E. Sebastian, of Los Angeles, is now in charge of an oil filling station at Burbank. This may help to solve the problem of what to do with our ex-mayors.

Messrs. Holcomb and Tupper are now employed in the office of Whiting & Hawkins as salesmen. Mr. Holcomb has recently come to Southern California from Oklahoma.

Raymond Anderson of 107 South Isabel street, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Glendale Sanitarium about ten days ago, has made a fine recovery and expects to be brought to his home today.

Mrs. C. E. Byrkit, formerly of Belmont street but now residing at 666 West 36th street, Los Angeles, came out Wednesday to attend the P. E. O. luncheon which was given at Mrs. Dow's.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Gaston, who have been visiting the Sayre family at their home, 914 South Central avenue, for the past week, returned Wednesday to their home in Sacramento.

R. M. McGee, the merchant, is expected home the last of the week from an eastern trip, in the course of which he visited "kin folks," old school chums and other friends. He writes that he has had a royal good time.

William A. Anderson has returned to his ranch in the Palo Verde Valley after a month's visit with his family at the Anderson home on Isabel St. He is now harvesting his cotton crop which is a fine yield of excellent quality.

The management of the Tent Meetings, conducted under the auspices of young people's societies of Glendale churches, is sending out a distress call for singers and orchestral musicians to help with the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seubert, who have been visiting their son, Carl J. Seubert, and family, of 332 Dryden street, for several months, left this week for their home in Toledo, Ohio. They go by the way of San Francisco where they will visit Mrs. Seubert's brother.

Glendale seedsmen and florists declare that now is the time to plant root crops of all kinds such as onions, carrots and beets by way of vegetables, and jonquils, China lilies and iris for flowers. It is also a good time to sow cabbage and lettuce seed.

Miss Agnes Ahearne of Flint, Mich., who has quite a circle of friends in this city, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan of 419 East Harvard street. She formerly taught in the Glendale City Schools and is now teaching history and English in the Intermediate of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Panzer, who have come to Glendale recently from Cleveland, Ohio, have purchased the home of Wm. A. Goss at 918 East Harvard street and will take possession in about thirty days. In the meantime they are staying with Mr. and Mrs. M. Sarason, of 219 East Harvard street, who are old Ohio friends.

J. W. M. Burton of Burton & Chandler, reports that Mrs. Burton, who is now in the east, is having a very nice visit with relatives and friends and enjoying the beautiful autumn coloring of the mountain forests. She expected to start west the first of the week, but will make stops en route in Michigan and Colorado and will probably not reach Glendale for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dement, of Los Angeles, bought property at 121 Fairview avenue about a week ago and moved at once so are now installed in their new home. They came to Los Angeles from Missouri about a year ago and selected Glendale for their permanent residence after a considerable inspection of residence districts of Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., of 151 Los Feliz Road, who have been in Middletown, Ohio, for more than a year, arrived Wednesday morning from the east in the expectation of spending several weeks here and then returning to Ohio. They will be guests of Mrs. Harvey's sister in Pasadena for a day or two and after that will be at home to their friends on Los Feliz Road.

MASONIC NOTICE

ROY W. MASTERS, W. M.
A. W. TOWER, Sec.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. West and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Apffel of Valley View Road are leaving today for San Diego to be gone until Monday. They are going by auto and will attend the Elks' Convention to be held in that city.

Paul P. Blackburn, Executive Officer with the rank of Commander on the U. S. S. Dreadnaught "Mississippi," his wife and son, were guests Wednesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackburn of 213 Cedar St. His ship is at San Pedro and he anticipates so long a stay in Pacific waters that about twelve days ago he purchased a home at 236 North Vendome street, Los Angeles.

Riley E. Lyons, formerly a well-known resident of Glendale and a member of the firm of Johnson & Lyons, is now located in Bridgend, Florida, where he is connected with the Osceola Cypress Company. Mr. Lyons went to Florida last March after a brief residence in Long Beach. In July he was joined by the other members of his family, his daughters, Mrs. Forrest LaRock and Miss Elizabeth Lyons, and his son, Riley.

The Wednesday Club, as its members style it, is a club composed of fifteen ladies, who for several years have met informally at the homes of the members for purely social purpose. All of these ladies are residents of Glendale except one, Mrs. C. H. Freshmann, who lives in Los Angeles. Mrs. Freshman entertained the club on Wednesday afternoon at her home, 540 West 41st Place.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Singleton and Miss Mildred Singleton of West Wilson avenue, motored to Riverside on Sunday, accompanying Miss Marjorie Singleton, who had been spending the week-end with her parents. Miss Singleton has a position teaching in a business college in Riverside.

Mrs. W. A. George of 400 Stocker street is very happy in entertaining her sister, Miss Mabel Hancock, of St. Albans, Vt., who arrived Wednesday morning and may spend the winter here. It is her first visit to California and she is delighted with what she has seen thus far. On the journey west she visited friends at Grand Rapids and also took in the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Griffin of Acacia avenue and their sons, Jim, Jack and Dan, were guests of honor at a dinner given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Jeans of East Fifty-Second St., Los Angeles. The host and hostess are old Tennessee friends of the Griffins and it was a real old-fashioned Tennessee spread. Covers were laid for nineteen, all relatives or close friends.

NO IDEAL WITHOUT A REALITY

Editor Glendale Evening News:—

There is in elementary physics a charming little experiment. One causes to appear, suspended in the air, in the middle of the room, a bouquet of roses; one sees it, and yet in reality there is nothing.

Under what condition can the operator make the imaginary bouquet appear? Under one alone—an essential one: It is that the bouquet actually exists, not at the point where we see it, but at another invisible one, where mirrors, skilfully arranged, reflect the image to the spot where it appears to be.

Such is the divine ideal. If you find it in yourself, it is because it exists—not in your brain, but somewhere higher than yourself. There can not possibly be an ideal without a corresponding reality. If you think of God, be assured that it is because God exists.

REV. JAMES S. O'NEILL.

DEATH OF MRS. NELLIE SPRAGUE

Mrs. Nellie Sprague, who has been a resident of Glendale for the past nine years, passed away at her home at 143 North Howard street, Wednesday, October 8, 1919, at the age of seventy-four years. She was born in England and came to the United States thirty-five years ago. So far as known she had no living relatives, but she had a large circle of friends here particularly in the Christian Church in which she had been an ardent worker. Funeral services, which will be conducted by Rev. Clifford Cole, her pastor, will be held at the Jewel City Undertaking Parlors Friday morning at ten o'clock with interment in Grand View Cemetery.

KNIGHT ERRANTS

Wallace Tupper and Herman Nelson went fishing with the Tupper launch last Saturday and though they caught nothing of note had quite an experience and a chance to play knight errants. They encountered a boat containing a man and his wife who had been fishing, but who were helplessly drifting out to sea because the man had been stung by a scorpion, and was unconscious. The Glendale men towed the boat in and got a doctor whose prompt action saved the injured man's life.

THE MILK DELIVERY QUESTION

Glendale, Cal.,

Editor Glendale Evening News:—

Dear Sir:—In the issue of the 6th I noticed a movement is being made to induce milkmen to make deliveries and collect bottles at rear doors. It takes time to carry milk to the back door, and these particular deliverymen's time is limited. They must have their deliveries made and back home at a certain hour. Glendale milk deliveries are mostly made with horses, and the life of these faithful creatures is one unceasing hurry. They will be compelled to make faster time. Their condition is bad enough now. Let us look on the humane side of this matter. In an interview with the proprietor of the Glendale Creamery, he said that at present, where one man could make good time, it would take two men to cover the same route, if back deliveries were made, and an increase in the price of milk would be inevitable.

I am in favor of a clean city, and would like to see a movement to clean up vacant lots. There are many of them unsghtly because of heaps of rubbish and obnoxious weeds going to seed. Enforce a law to compel people to remove garbage pails and boxes from curbs as soon as emptied. A milk bottle is a thing of beauty compared to a dirty, ill-smelling, fly-infested, garbage pail and box of dirty cans. If cans were well washed before putting into boxes they will not become a breeding place for flies and ants.

Yours for a clean, healthy and beautiful city,

AGNES M. HARRISON,
218 W. Windsor Rd.

QUESTION FOR MORALISTS TO PUZZLE OVER

When Captain Matlack went to the cottonwood tree where two American army aviators were to be delivered by their Mexican bandit captors one-half of the ransome was paid, as the protocol required, on delivery of Lieutenant Davis. But when Lieutenant Peterson was seated behind Captain Matlack on his horse he did not hand over the remaining money, but with wounding words which must have aggrived the proud caballero who acted as envoy he rode away, having, as he afterward, explained, saved $7,500.

The question for debate is whether this technical breach of faith was justified.

Consider: Here was an agreement entered into on the one side for the United States war department. The men were to be brought. The money was to be paid. The bandit brought the men. Presumably Captain Matlack reasoned that banditry is a kind of a private war, in which all's fair, but his action may puzzle moralists now and embarrass Mexican captives hereafter.

There is no question whatever of the moral right of the Eighth cavalry to chase the brigands the moment the bargain was completed; to get all the money back if possible and hang or shoot the late captors. That is an occupational risk that they assumed as a part of the game. But they assumed also that they would finger the promised $15,000, even if they died for it shortly afterward. Is it ethical to bunco a bandit?—New York World.

saved: we can preach and not be saved. Too many of our preachers today are not preaching the blood of Jesus Christ. There is only one who can save and that is Christ Jesus. The question is not what will we do with sin but what will we do with Christ? He will settle the sin question. There is no neutral ground. We are either for or against Him.

"Ruth becomes the type of the convert and Boaz the type of Christ the Redeemer when Ruth desires to reap and Boaz gives her the privilege. Service always follows decision if the decision is real.

"Ruth comes and lays at the feet of Boaz all night. We call that fellowship. Do we know Christ as one that sticketh closer than a brother, one we can always depend upon, or are we just giving Him Sunday when we are dressed up in our good clothes and then turning the rest of the week over to the Devil? Jesus will not play second to Satan.

"Boaz took Ruth as his bride. Christ will do as much for us if we keep close to Him, and heaven is going to be a wonderful place."

In summing up the points of his discourse the evangelist named the three things which the follower of Christ must do: "First, he must decide, the second serve, and third, have fellowship. Then he can be sure of glory with Christ.

The Riverside Enterprise suggests that men be stationed on all roads leading into the mountains, to get the names of everybody going into the mountains. The idea is that it would act as a deterrent and prevent much of the carelessness now common among campers, if they knew that their names were on file with the authorities. This it would probably do for a while but there is not much danger of forest fires immediately after a big forest fire. Everybody is careful then. It is a year or two afterward, when the thought of the danger wears off and people grow thoughtless again that extraordinary care and precaution need to be taken.

IMPORTANT TO VOTERS

An important election will take place in Glendale, Nov. 12th next. Voters must be registered in the precinct in which they reside 30 days preceding an election. Saturday, October 11th, 1919, registration for this election will close.

Voters who continue to reside in the precinct in which they have registered any time since Jan. 1st, 1918, do not need to register. Others should do so immediately.

The first activity in which the High School boys will participate is the Sixth Annual Older Boys' Conference to be entertained at Monrovia. Glendale has been assigned twenty delegates for this event.

County Secretary Anderson reports that their beautiful cabin and camp site in the San Gabriel Canyon, barely escaped the forest fire which was raging less than half a mile away when the rain stopped the conflagration. Word has not yet been received as to the fate of the Y. M. C. A. log cabin on Pine Flats at the base of Mt. Islip where the organization has a camp site of nine acres.

The local executive committee has secured official permission to use the names of the following well-known citizens as among the number who are sponsoring this district organization of the County Y. M. C. A.:

TUJUNGA

I. W. Tomasson, one of the pioneer residents of the valley, who owns a fine lemon ranch on Palm street, came down from Seattle for a couple of months vacation with his family, who reside here.

Mr. and Mrs. Saxby of Venice have purchased the Green property on Pine street.

Mr. Corrier has rented the Hodges place and will remain for the winter.

W. H. Wieman will go to Bakersfield to help his son build his new house on the ranch.

Mr. Freel, who formerly plotted this tract, is again on the tract laying out the lots and new roads.

The Ladies' Aid held its regular meeting at the home of Miss Zoe Gilbert on Thursday, Oct. 2d. Making of garments for children, sewing of carpet rags and a general good time all day was enjoyed by about seventeen ladies.

Mrs. Leckie who has been very ill the past week is reported much better.

Miss Shane, who purchased the Woodrow home, comes up from Los Angeles for over night returning in the morning.

The children from the schools were out with a truck gathering wild cherry seeds for planting on the hills, near La Crescenta.

The Woman's Club will entertain their friends of Tujunga on Friday evening, October 10th, with a "Hard Times Swapping Social." Sandwiches and cofiee will be served during the evening.

Mrs. Hoffman has sold both of her cows and the people of Tujunga are very much in need of good cows' milk. There is a fine opening here for a dairyman. While there are a number of goats in the valley at present, it is nearing the close of milk season, and it will grow gradually less up to February. Now is the time for some enterprising young man to start in, for with the selling of two hundred lots, it will mean more people and need for good milk.

If this boom keeps up two weeks longer there won't be standing room left in this colony. A new roadway is being planned along the Verdugo Hills, and surveyors are busy setting stakes along the different lots, so one will have at least a number for their lots.

Tujunga enjoyed a real 1888 California real estate boom last Saturday and Sunday when 87 lots were sold to about 42 new families. Mr. Hartranft says we are only getting the first evidences of the boom that is upon us in California. The real estate boom has hit the middle west and farms are selling in Iowa as high as $600 an acre. Much of that capital released by high sales is coming to California. The other department of Hartranft's Home Extension organization has been selling from 200 to 300 lots in the southwestern part of Los Angeles each week, and the Home Extension is leading in the rally forward movement. The gratifying proposition, however, is that the local syndicate of Tujunga lands, of which Mr. H. is the head, have decided that they will finish their job of city building on this mountain slope and they state that Tujunga now has the human foundation for the biggest and only important foothill city in Southern California; meaning by foothill city those settlements supported by residential features and not by agricultural production. People of large and considerable means are buying the smaller sized lots here.

The Ethiopian ark to have been launched at Long Beach last week by a colored brother who hoped to lead a load of brethren and sisters to Africa in it, to expound the scriptures to the erring natives over there, stuck in the mud and wouldn't launch. It took him two years to build it, and it may take nearly that much longer to get it broke to water, at the present rate.

Advertise it, or advertise for it in the Evening News.

BULGARIA LAND OF ROSES

If one visits the rose fields of Bulgaria in the early hours of a June morning he will find the peasant folk busy gathering roses. Everyone who can goes to the fields to pick roses. The picturesque costumes amid the blooms of roses look very beautiful to one standing on a hilltop overlooking the sea of flowers.

The roses are gathered while the dew is still fresh upon them, because the roses yield more attar if gathered before the heat of the sun dries out the leaves. As the baskets are filled with open and half-open buds and blossoms they are taken to the distillery nearby, where the attar is distilled.

LESS TALK AND MORE DOING

When it comes to accomplishing great things the main factor in carrying through the project is work and not words.

The way to raise money for defraying the expense of local promotions is to raise it. A paid subscription from one man for $100, $1000 or perhaps only $10, according to the magnitude of the enterprise, will start things going, and Mr. B steps forward and subscribes an amount equal to that subscribed by A, and so the good work goes on.
